i want you to be there for me in the end. i want you to pick out my gravesite i want you to pick out my grave i want you to put flowers on my grave would you do this for me?
would you?

for i can be

there's no place for me hollow casket

im crying imcrying,, i forgot about unconsciousness , nauseating nauseating nauseating she talks to herself outside walking my dog can’t hear the phone, log the call logs make up the walls of the cabin on the vacation, had enough clogging the drain with my nonsense heinous reenactment chapter in a book about dragons the world got bigger got bigger than i ever could imagine tires got flattened in the winter

Up in the morning with the pandemonium im up in the morning hopped up out the bed turned my swag on emptied my bag out took all of the chords onto the floor and untangled them decisions and angels ceremonies
rituals tangles entangled entanglement as old as time i had a babysitter around 2010 when i was 9 and she played the radio with songs like super bass by nicki minaj as well as roll up by wiz khalifa we watched the movie super 8 also that day i cried
that day i cried
we played guitar hero with the drums

I like to watch

how people work.
fly on my skin
. in a lot of people , ants. standing by standby tv warning announcement beep drone like the backup of a garbage truck, i found it on the side of the road in the garbage this keyboard i got u, busy anthill, camera on recording watching, i like to watch. As I looked out, as i watched over the window of the library, McDonalds fry on the ground from the birds taking them,. The feeling of plastic on skin.
